Domaine Clavel Le Mas 2016 Côteaux du Languedoc

Domaine Clavel is run by Pierre Clavel, whose father helped create the Côteaux du Languedoc AOC. Despite this, the family owned no vineyards until Pierre established himself at what was then called Mas Calage (now Domaine Clavel).

At that time he was young guy ready to accept the work & responsibilities of an empty field, rare enough at a time when the wines of the Côteaux du Languedoc and the South in general were poorly regarded by both French connoisseurs & the export markets.

Before becoming a winemaker, Pierre worked at a variety of jobs, including tending sheep in the hills close to where he now makes wine. A bit of a hippy at heart, we can reap the benefits of his proletarian ideology, as he is determined that his excellent wine will be affordable for all.

The wine itself is Southern Rhône-esque in character, & is made from Syrah, Grenache, Mouvèdre & Carignan. It's ample bodied & hearty, with soft mellow black fruits spiced with cinnamon. Notes of liquorice linger on the palate, as does the deep herbaceous undercurrent of les garrigues.
